

1. The McEwing Fish Grabber is a leather, cloth, rubber, or heavy plastic glove that can be adjusted by straps or enclosures, that can be adjusted to fit around any size right or left hand, with four fingers and one thumb, "five altogether," with three foot long adjustable straps to extend out from the glove itself, to fit around any fishing pole. The three long adjustable straps that extend out, can also be made into buckle straps or leather or rubber enclosures.

The McEwing Fish Grabber is new in the art from any other glove or glove device, in that not only does it fit on any size hand comfortably, but it has three foot long extended straps, that are specifically use to fit around any fishing pole, to prevent the loss of said pole while fishing.
